CRUCE MAY CALL SPECIAL SESSION

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 22.—Members of the Oklahoma legislature believe Gov. Cruce will call a special session during next fall or winter if congress passes an apportionment bill, which, the indications are, it will do. Private letters from Congressmen say that the senate will pass the house bill, while letters from Senators indicate that it will differ from the one the house sent over. In either event Oklahoma is looking for an increase of two or three members of the lower house. Republicans of the senate, however, appear according to the letters, to favor an apportionment which will not increase the size of the house in a great degree.

"If congress passes the bill, it occurs that an extra session of the Oklahoma legislature will be necessary" said Senator C. B. Kendrick of Davis, "for, as I understand the pending measure, it provides that if the state is not redistricted in accordance with the number each state is to have, the excess members shall be elected from the state at large. In either event it will be necessary to provide for such an election in 1912."

Another reason for an extra session, some members of the legislature believe, is in event the supreme court of the United States sustains the decision of the Oklahoma court on the demurrer in the capital removal controversy, it would then be up to Oklahoma City to begin operations with a view of gathering the promised $1,000,000 for the so-called free statehouse, and make periodical payments to the state. It is believed further legislation is necessary in order to make such transactions legal, and binding and to designate a board or branch of the state government to receive and disburse the money.

Some of the members are drifting back to the idea of a state capital commission, while the administration favors placing the matter in hands of the State Board of Affairs, and permitting it to name assistants individually in charge of the work, and the Board of Affairs to supervise it.

Gov. Cruce's idea has been to confine the business management, as well as the responsibility, as much as possible, to the state board.

Session of the Third legislature revealed that the house wanted the state capital commission idea, while the senate stood for its abolishment. The commission was created during the special session which moved the capital from Guthrie to Oklahoma City, but it was tacitly understood that the act would be repealed when the regular session met thirty days later. The Capitol Commission has been doing nothing since then, but occupying an office and opening mail. The legislature gave it neither appropriation nor power.

Presbyterians Enjoying Picnic.

Several dray loads of pupils of the Presbyterian Sunday school left this morning for the big spring south of the Amos Hays place and are spending the day at an old fashioned picnic.

Married.

This morning Mr. George Griffith and Miss Silva Allredge of Stonewall were married at the court house, Justice E. J. Brown performing the ceremony.

PEACE IS DECLARED

TERMS AGREED UPON AND ARMISTICE IS TO TAKE EFFECT AT-ONCE.

Juarez, Mexico, May 21.—Officially designated representatives of the Mexican government and the revolutionists at 10 o'clock tonight signed a peace agreement at the custom house here intended to end the hostilities that have been waged in Mexico for the last six months.

Though covering only the principal points negotiated thus far, the agreement practically records the concessions by the government of these demands which started, on Nov. 20 last, an armed revolution in Mexico. Telegrams announcing the signing of the agreement were dispatched throughout Mexico to revolutionary and federal leaders alike.

For Resignation of Diaz.

Constitutional restrictions prevented the inclusion in the agreement of the fact that the rebels will be permitted to suggest to various state legislatures the names of provisional governors and likewise the fact that six of the eight members of the new cabinet have been chosen by the revolutionists, but the agreement records that President Diaz and Vice President Corral will resign and that the government is to concentrate its attentions on desired reforms.

In Historic Room.

In the same room where President Taft and President Diaz met two years ago, where the portrait of President Taft in silent solitude looks down on the peace commissioners, the portrait of President Diaz, which once hung beside the Taft picture having long since been removed, peace was formally declared.

Judge Carbajal represented the federal government and Dr. Vasquez Gomez, Francisco I. Madero Sr. and Senor Pinar Suarez acted for the revolutionists.

The agreement was signed after three days of indecision. Francisco I. Madero Jr., leader of the revolution, expressing the view that peace could be declared only when Senor de la Barra became provisional President and the new cabinet was installed.

Some of his chiefs argued otherwise, declaring that armed forces in the field in the interim might precipitate trouble. It was suggested, too, that in deference to the wish of President Diaz to retire when tranquility was restored, the peace agreement be made immediate, as his resignation is expected within four or five days. The latter view prevailed.

Hesitancy of Madero.

Senor Madero's hesitancy was based on the idea that a peace agreement could have no legal effect, inasmuch as one of the parties, the revolutionists, expired when peace was declared.

It was pointed out to him, however, that a peace treaty in the legal sense of the word was not desired.

COMMITTEE NEEDS

ANOTHER $100

The committee appointed to solicit funds for the "Frisco booster train" reports that about $100 is yet needed to push the matter to the success desired. The committee has been somewhat badly handicapped, but is very anxious to see the full amount raised and will appreciate the assistance of all who have not yet contributed. It is gratifying to note that with few exceptions, all approached have contributed cheerfully, for they realize what a splendid opportunity to advertise this city and county now presents itself.

Editors Accept Site for Home.

Lawton, Ok., May 21.—Two hundred editors of the Oklahoma Press Association visited Lawton today, arriving on a special train from the state convention at Chickasha for the purpose of investigating a proposal to establish a permanent home for editors at Medicine Park, a new summer resort in the Wichita Mountains. The owners of Medicine Park offer a free site to the editors. The plan is to erect the home from money derived from advertising contracts issued in the form of transferable certificates.

After viewing the site the editors voted unanimously to accept. The home will cost $20,000 and will serve both as a clubhouse and a place for holding annual conventions of the state association.

Mrs. M. G. Meadows, state manager of the Woodmen Circle, who spent several days here, left for Francis this morning.

Osborne Farmer: This paper men-county. A woman who was stung, wrote the following letter to the cashier of the Waldo bank last week, and it is worth reading: "My husband C. B. Lewis, was at the bank yesterday and settled for a grocery order that I had ordered from a grocery company of Kansas City through their agent. We are to have three days to open and try the goods, and if not as represented, no sale. I have tried the coffee and find it poor and not like the sample and the mustard very inferior, and the baking powder is worse than nothing. The agent carried a sample of the good cream tartar baking powder and sold me the cream tartar baking powder, and filled the order with a cheap alum baking powder, something I never use at all, and to make matters worse they charged my husband more than the order amounted to. I have the copy and refuse to be treated in such a way. I have a witness, Mr. Joe Moyes, to the contract, and I ask you to hold the money my husband paid you until we can have this matter straightened up or until I can return them their goods."

MURRAY GIVES UP FIGHT FOR NEW ELECTION LAW

Senator J. J. Jones has discovered Hon. "Bill" Murray, the Sage of Tishomingo!

Our well known local statesman has been trying to get a bunch of politicians from the three parties casting the largest vote in Oklahoma, to join with him in the initiation of a new election law. Mr. Jones had called a conference of "Bushwacker" Joe McNeal, "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and a socialist leader, who were to meet and draft the bill. But the Tishomingo man refused to take part in the meeting, though he was at one time one of the loudest in his desire for an "honest election law."

Mr. Murray wrote Senator Jones he had decided to "out it out," which means about what it says.

"Say," said Senator Jones, "Bill Murray is a quitter."

Most of the Oklahoma Democrats are satisfied with the present election law. It provides for simple protection of the ballot, anticipates any possible scheme to defraud the candidates, and with the amendments provided by the last legislature, is clearer on many points here-to-fore obscure.

Senator Jones did not ask what the next move would be towards amending the law, or initiating a new measure, but with Bill Murray a quitter, much of the back-bone of the movement is taken out.—Bristow Record.

MAYORS OF GERMAN CITIES

Position is Considered One of Honor, and Graft is Rarely Heard of There.

A public trust in Germany, according to Heinrich Theurer of Pankfurt, is a public honor, and there are but few cases of graft known in the fatherland.

"One of the principal requirements of a mayor in Germany," said Herr Theurer, who is a banker, "is unqualified honesty, for in the municipal administration of Germany graft in any form is not tolerated; in fact, it is unknown. To become the mayor of a city like Berlin, the applicant must have established his reputation for efficiency by governing other German cities. His career is carefully scrutinized by the members of the town council, who select him, for not only must he be competent, and be able to perform successfully the duties of his high office, but also he must be young enough to remain competent for many years, for a mayor in Prussia is elected for a term of 12 years, and, if not re-elected after that period, is entitled to a life pension of half the amount of his salary. After a service of six years his pension is one-fourth of his salary, and after serving 20 years, two-thirds. He need not be a resident of Berlin at the time of his appointment; in fact, the mayor is usually chosen from the residents of other cities.

"The mayor is appointed by the town council, subject to the confirmation of the king of Prussia," continued Mr. Theurer. "When it becomes known that the office of mayor is to be vacant applications for the position are considered by a committee of the town council, and if municipal officers have made especially good records in other cities they may be requested to apply, if they have not already done so. After a thorough discussion of the merits of the various applicants, the appointments are made.

"We regard the administration of a city from a strictly business standpoint, the same as any other big enterprise. If industrial, financial and commercial concerns are anxious to secure the best managers to be had to take charge of their interests, why should not a municipality do the same thing, when it is considered that the interests involved are so great and important and concern every citizen and taxpayer? The less politics in the public administration and more business principles the better. Why don't you apply the same principles in America."—Washington Herald.

HEALTH MOVEMENT IN CITY

Washington School Children Given Circulars Telling How to Prevent Disease.

An elaborate health movement will be started in Washington, D. C., in the near future when more than fifty thousand children of the grade and high schools will be given circulars telling in simple language how to take care of themselves and prevent diseases to which, it has been found by investigation, school children are peculiarly subject.

The movement will aim primarily to prevent diseases which are due mainly to neglect and bad habits.

Co-operation between parents, children, teachers, school officials and family physicians will be assured in this way, it is hoped, with the result of a better physical juvenile Washington. Furthermore, in endeavoring to obtain the co-operation of the family physician, copies of the circular have been sent to more than one thousand members of the medical fraternity of the district, with personal letters asking their aid in the movement.

The circulars, printed as they are in simple language, entirely free from technicalities, will form easy reading matter for the children. Because of the simplicity of the circulars, it is hoped by those who are interested in the movement that they will be "talked over," paragraph by paragraph, and word by word, in sixty thousand homes.

In spite of the fact that the keynote of the pamphlet is simplicity, the latest scientific discoveries and data compiled on the prevention of disease have been embodied in the four pages of the circular.

Combined Beauty and Utility.

Paris, which knows how to charge travelers who are rich, and yet bring to itself those who wish to live pleasantly and economically, has shown also how to maintain the most beautiful park in the world and yet have it a source of revenue rather than expense, says Franklin Clarkin in Success Magazine. It costs $142,000 yearly to maintain the Bois de Boulogne, a park of 1,530 acres. But it brings to the city treasury annually $180,000 in rents and concessions. There are better ways than this one of making public revenue from a city people like to go to, or live in. "Excess condemnation" is one of these and it is spreading. It means taking somewhat more land than is required for a park or public-building site, and allowing the community generally to receive the benefit of the increased value of abutting land.

He is content to do without the patronage of the

He realizes that as soon as any of his patrons become ad readers, he loses their trade--but he hopes that there may always be a great per centage of shoppers who do not read ads. And he knows that with such shoppers he stands on equal footing with the enterprising merchant.
